Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Baby-Farming Don t cry; oh, don t cry! pleaded a frail outstretched hands, sitting up, asleep, in bed, in the night, dreaming. He often did so; the tears rolling down his pained blanched face, as if he would restrain companions from suffering. He had been got from a house, where night and day he had the chief care of six cold, sore, wailing, hungry babies, all younger than himself, all unwanted, all nearing the time of their departure, a small batch of that mournful tale of 54,000 children annually born in the land who ought not to have been born. He was dreaming it over again. If a process could be invented, by which stories of the invisible and hateful things done to these children could be brought to light, as a certain solution, known to the experiments of my boyhood, brought out writing in invisible ink, the nation would not hesitate to pronounce them the darkest, most ghastly shame in the land. Yet is it the work of- a trade, doing a brisk business, known by the mild name of the Baby Farm. Even the student of heathen history may fairly challenge Christians, as all Englishmen are called, to find amongst its horrors anything done to children which provides a parallel to it. While cannibal mothers, when an unwanted child is born, are said to put it back again in a meal, English mothers put their unwanted children back by a process of which the cannibal would be ashamed, but which, happily for the comparison, her eye does not actually see. The responsibility lies with a trade which has grown up, and is in...
